

Content Standards and Compliance SOP - MCN TV

Purpose

This document defines how programs and advertisements are classified, what on-air disclaimers are required, and the review/sign-off chain a program must pass before it airs, in line with Indonesian free-to-air broadcasting regulations.

Content Classification

Every program and advertisement is assigned one of three classifications before scheduling:

- General (U): suitable for all audiences, no restrictions.
- Parental Guidance (BO): may contain content requiring adult guidance for younger viewers (mild violence, suggestive themes). Restricted to airing after 21:30, and must carry the "BO" on-screen bug for the program's full duration.
- Adult (D): intended for mature audiences only. Restricted to airing after 22:00, must carry the "D" on-screen bug, and requires a spoken disclaimer immediately before the program starts and after each ad break.

Required On-Air Disclaimers

- Programs depicting dangerous stunts, extreme sports, or hazardous activities must carry the disclaimer: "Adegan ini dilakukan oleh profesional, jangan ditiru" ("This is performed by professionals, do not imitate") displayed on-screen during the relevant segment.
- Programs involving medical, legal, or financial advice presented by a non-licensed host must carry a disclaimer that the content is for entertainment purposes and not professional advice.
- Reality/competition programs involving prize money must disclose terms and conditions on-screen for a minimum of 5 seconds when the prize is first mentioned.

Review and Sign-Off Chain

Before a new program (or a new season of an existing program) can be scheduled, it must pass through the following sign-off chain, in order:

1. Content Review Team: reviews the full program (or a representative sample of episodes for ongoing series) against classification guidelines and flags any required disclaimers or edits.
2. Standards & Practices Manager: reviews the Content Review Team's findings, approves the final classification, and confirms required disclaimers are correctly placed.
3. Programming Director: gives final sign-off on the program's schedule slot, confirming the classification matches the proposed daypart (e.g. a "D"-classified program cannot be scheduled in Day Time).

No program may air without all three sign-offs on file. Sign-off records are retained for a minimum of 2 years for regulatory audit purposes.
